SAP Implementation Services

Companies invest in SAP software because it offers integrated, industry specific functionality needed to optimize operations and gain competitive advantage. Evolve plays a vital role in helping our customers' design, implement, and integrate their solutions.

SAP Quality Assurance Reviews

Enhance the quality of your SAP software projects. Having a successful project – one that's completed on schedule, within budget, and with quality – requires rigorous inspection, alignment, and monitoring of project elements, from start to finish. Our experts will inspect and help you optimize the governance, project management, organizational, functional, and technical components of your projects.

Along the way, we will help you establish a strategic quality program and identify tactical project risks, quality issues, and mitigation strategies while showing you how to establish management best practices and fundamental success criteria.

Finally, we'll confirm that your overall project and solution strategy aligns with the SAP product road map. By applying knowledge about future product enhancements and building them into your solution design, you can maximize the value of your investment long term.

Using consistent, global methodologies and standards, our review teams can improve the overall quality of the SAP solutions you deploy.

These methodologies and standards lead to:

- Lower project costs
- Reduced risk
- Better governance
- Greater system performance and stability
- More successful business and IT strategy execution

DOCCEPT

Document Management System (DOCCEPT)

Better document management and control

Your organization needs better management of, control of and access to its critical information. Documents and other content is the lifeblood of every enterprise, from contracts to invoices, policy documents to employee records and any other type of file. Doccept is the solution to that need.

As organizations have transitioned from file cabinets full of paper to the same file cabinets full of documents living on servers or individual desktops, the need for a simple to use document management system has only increased. The file you need is on someone else's desktop, the e-mail requesting payment approval didn't make it to the approver, the contract is due for renewal but no one is sure which is the most recent version.

Doccept gives your team a simple to use, easy to navigate document management tool to track, manage and approve the documents that make your business run.

The Promise of Paperless

A paperless organization is about more than just moving things from file cabinets to file servers. It's about business processes, approvals, tracking the most important part of your business...information. Doccept helps you to organize your information and workflow in a way that makes the move to a more paperless organization seamless.

Why DOCCEPT

Doccept is a Document Management System that's easy to use, simple to implement and requires little training, all the while offering robust functionality to make your document management process more powerful for your organization.
